REQUEST FOR RECONSIDERATION

Sir:

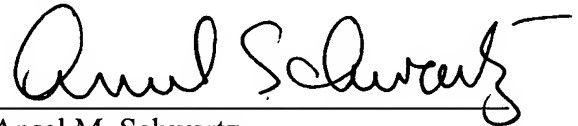

This is a request for reconsideration on the Decision on Petition dated August 31, 2010. Enclosed is also a Declaration responsive to the questions that were raised in the Decision On Petition. This Declaration states that the first time attorney of record Ansel Schwartz paid a maintenance fee by Express Mail was to pay the maintenance fee for the above-identified patent. Further, that it is the standard practice for him to pay maintenance fees by credit card through the Internet at the USPTO website. In the instances where the entity status of a patent needed to be changed in regard to the maintenance fee, attorney Schwartz had always mailed the necessary documentation and payment by standard regular U.S. mail and not Express Mail. The reason that Express Mail was used in regard to payment of the above-identified patent application along with the change of entity status documentation was because the same was being sent on the very last day that payment could be timely made and Attorney Schwartz wanted to be able to have a tracking history of the Express Mail.

In addition, the Decision On Petition states that a copy of the envelope included as Attachment D of the petition filed by Petitioner on March 12, 2010 could not be located. A copy of Attachment D is also enclosed.

Accordingly, Petitioner requests that the petition filed by Petitioner on March 12, 2010 to accept payments of the maintenance fee for the above-identified patent as having been made in a timely manner.

Respectfully submitted,

DECLARATION UNDER 37 C.F.R. §1.132

Sir:

I, Ansel M. Schwartz, hereby declare that:

It is my standard practice to pay maintenance fees for U.S. patents for which I am responsible by credit card at the USPTO website through the Internet.

On Saturday, February 13, 2010, when I went to pay the maintenance fee for U.S. Patent 6,997,267 (the subject patent), after entering the necessary information into the USPTO website for maintenance fee payments, I saw that the subject patent was still listed as having small entity status. The subject patent was no longer eligible for small entity status, but was subject to large entity status.

Once I realized that the subject patent was still listed as subject to small entity status on the USPTO website for maintenance fee payments, I did not proceed any further with payment by credit card for the maintenance fee since the amount would be incorrect that would be paid.

Instead, I decided to send by Express Mail the documentation to pay the maintenance fee for the subject patent as a large entity, and to also include the documentation to change the subject patent to large entity status. I chose to use Express Mail so I could track the envelope that was to be sent to the USPTO to pay the maintenance fee for the subject patent, since I would be paying the maintenance fee for the subject patent on the last day that I would be able to pay its maintenance fee.

I had never before made a payment for a maintenance fee for a U.S. patent using Express Mail.

The few previous times I had mailed a payment to the US PTO for a maintenance fee for a patent because the status of the patent had changed, and the fee identified at the website of the USPTO for the corresponding patent was incorrect, was always by regular U.S. mail, and not by Express Mail. Again, what was unique about the payment for the subject patent's maintenance fee is because it was being paid on the last day it could be paid, and I wanted to be able to track the envelope, which Express Mail allowed me to do. By sending an envelope by standard U.S. mail, and not by Express Mail, I would not be able to track the envelope.

All of the maintenance fees for the following patents (which were listed in the Decision on Petition dated August 31, 2010 for the subject patent, that the Senior Petitions Attorney requested the mailing address used by myself be identified when submitting the payment) were paid by me with a credit card at the USPTO web site for maintenance fee payments through the Internet. No payment was sent by U.S. mail in any way.
